That Lame Back Means Kidney Disease

And to Relieve the Lame and Aching Back, You Must First Relieve the Kidneys

There is no question about that all-for the lame and aching back is caused by a diseased con-dition of the kidneys and bladder. It is only common sense, any way that you must cure a condition by removing the cause of the con-dition. And lame and aching back are not by any means the only symptoms of derangement of the kidneys and bladder. There are a multitude of well-known and unmultitude of well-known and unmistakable indications of a more or less dangerous condition. Some of these are, for instance: Extreme and unnatural lassitude and wearlness, nervous irritability, heart irregularity, "nerves on edge," sleeplessness and inability to secure rest, scalding sensation and sediment in the urine, inflammation of the bladder and passages, etc.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder beneficial results are at once felt.

They regulate, purify, and effectually heal and restore the kidneys, bladder and liver, to perfect and healthy condition—even in some of the most advanced cases.

PAPER FOR MONEY.

Extreme Care and Secrecy Used In Its

The various great nations devote such study to the improvement of their secret processes of manufacturing paper for money and banknotes, the principal object being, of course, to render counterfeiting more and more difficult. Our own government guards with extreme care every detail of the manufacture of this paper, laying special Treadwell Lodge A. F. & A. M. No. 213, silk thread into the composition of the paper itself.

The efforts of this government, howver, are not nearly so painstaking as those put forth in making the filmsy paper used for Bank of England notes, 1, and on first Thursday in each which are probably the finest paper month from May 1 to October 1. money in the world. These notes are manufactured from fine Irish linen, and the peculiar properties of the Test water (so called from the river of that name) produce paper of a purity and texture unsurpassed. The secret of the security of the Bank of England note against forgery and counterfelting is said to be entirely in the paper itself and not in the printing. In addition, the notes show a watermark so cieverly devised that an expert from the mill can tell by a glance at the date of manufacture the very name of the employee who made it. your patronage and offer to insure tainly is not lost on those who go to The watermark is produced by a design countersunk in the woven wire bottoms of the trays in which the hot can be insured elsewhere. paper pulp is poured and dried. It has never been successfully imitated.

Extraordinary precautions are taken for the security of the mill where these notes are made, as well as of everything in the mill. There is, of course, a staff of police constantly in attendance and a private wire to police headquarters, nine miles away.

The watchmen who patrol the mill corridors every night must pass at each quarter of an hour clocks of wonderfully ingenious construction, the reholes, which at the precise moment the watchman is due before them pass over a slot. The watchman pushes through a peg he carries, and the clock ticks on. Should he not present himself at the moment scheduled for him to appear, however, the timepiece immediately sounds an alarm. ARAB SCHOOLS.

Their Peculiar Methods In Teaching and Studying.

"An Arab school," said a traveler, is one of the most interesting places in Cairo to visit. The children, with the schoolmaster, sit upon the floor or the ground in a semicircle, and each has a tablet of wood which is painted white and upon which the lessons are written. When the latter are learned they are washed out and replaced by

"During study hours the Arab schools remind one of the Chinese, for the children all study aloud, and as they chant they rock back and forth like continued for an hour or more at a time. The schoolmaster rocks back and forth also, and altogether the school presents a most novel appearance as well as sound. Worshipers in the nosques always move about while reciting the Koran, as this movement is believed to assist the memory.

"The desks of the Arab schools are old contrivances of palm sticks, upon ch is placed the Koran or one of the thirty sections of it. After learning the alphabet the boys take up the study of the Koran, memorizing entire chapters of it until the sacred book is entirely familiar.

"A peculiar method is followed in learning the Koran. The study begins with the opening chapter, and from this it skips to the last. The last but one is then learned, then the last but two, and so on in inverted order, ending finally with the second chapter.

"During the student's progress it is customary for the schoolmaster to send on the wooden tablet a lesson painted in black and red and green to the father, who returns it after inspection with a couple of plasters pasted upon it. The salaries of the schoolmasters are very meager indeed."-Washington Herald.

Honest Answer.

The stories told of Snetzler, a famous Swiss organ builder, prove that he was a man of rare and incorruptible honesty. At one time the parish officers of a country church applied to Snetzler to examine their organ and make improvements in it. "Gentlemen," sald Snetzler after a careful examination of the instrument in question, "your organ be wort f100 joost now. Vell, I vili spend you £100 on it, and it shall den be wort f50"-London Graphic.

HOW TO SHAPE FOWLS.

You've often wished to know the trick how that other fellow gets his thickens into such compact, pretty, plump shape when you breed the same strain, feed the same grains and go to much pains, and yet he outsells you and makes larger gains. Well, here's the tip, and it's tiptop. Your competitor gets more V's for als poultry because he presses their carcasses in a V shaped trough. After fasting his fowls one day, that empty to prevent their causing decay, be kills them neatly, picks them without tearing the skin, singes them over an alcohol flame and then takes the clean, warm carcass in his hands and manipulates the breast meat forward. He presses down the breastbone, ties legs at hock and presses them against breast, folds wings and presses them against body. Breast down, the fowl is now placed in a V shaped trough, with rear of bird pressed tight up against the back board, and all the carcasses are placed the same and tight against each other.

After all are neatly arranged a the purpose of doing a GENERAL the fowls, and they are thus kept unsmooth weighted board is placed on having secured a number of respon- If the same breed and age this gives all the carcasses a uniform, compact,
